CHORAL SOCIETY.

Its Plans for the Coming Season Out-

The Choral Society has made up its mind to keep in the foreground of musical enterprise by presenting the great new work, "The Dream of Gerontius," by Sir Edward Elgar, the English composer. This is referred to as the most interesting new composition of the last decade. It call: for a large chorus, assisted by a semi-chorus of women's voices, three soloists and a full orchestra, comprising not only those instruments common in orchestras, but many more of unusual character. Rehearsals of this work begin immediately, and will continue until the 1st of December, when "The Messiah" will be taken up.

The third concert at the close of the season's work has not yet been extermined upon, and unfortunately the Washington Symphony Orchestra connot be engaged at Symphony Orchestra cannot be engaged at that date. Hearty co-operation has been assured between the orchestra and the society, and arrangements have been made sult in the best possible performance.

UNDER NEW COMMANDER.

Changes Aboard U. S. Coast Survey Steamer Hydrographer.

The United States coast survey steamer Hydrographer came into port yesterday afternoon and is lying at anchor off the 11th street wharf. This is the first visit the steamer has made to this city in about two years, and she comes this time to change commanders, it is stated, and to take aboard a new detail of engineers from the coast survey office in this city. Capt. Ross, who is now in command of the steamer, is to be succeeded by Capt. Parker. The Hydrographer has recently been employed in making surveys on the North Atlantic coast and came here from that duty. Since Although he resorted to the latest scientific treatment and consulted many of his brother physicians, Dr. Hart finally said, "I might just as well have thrown my main here for several days."

RAG DOLL IN THE RIVER.

Caused Much Excitement for Harbor-

master and the Coroner. A rag doll floating in the river off the foot of 23d street today gave the officers of the harbor police force a long run and caused Commodore Sutton, the harbormaster, to lose his temper. About 10 o'clock this morning a 'phone message was received at the harbor office from Mr. Samuel Einstein, the District poundmaster, stating that the body of a baby was drifting around in the river off 23d street. As the olice boat Vigilant was not available, the harbormaster sent the wagon and boat used for such work under charge of Officer

John Perry to recover the body.

Arriving at the spot a little form could be seen drifting about a short distance off shore. The boat was launched and the body picked up, but instead of being flesh and blood it was stuffed with sawdust. The officers placed the baby in the box and was the total control of the box and was the box and the box and was the box and brought it to the morgue, where it was turned over to the morguemaster. Commodore Sutton called upon Dr. Glazebrook to perform an autopsy, but the coroner declared it unnecessary and gave a certificate of death from natural causes.
